次の英文は、先生が英語の授業で生徒に聞かせた話です。これを読んで、あとの(1)～(3)に答えなさい。*印の語句には、英文のあとに(注)があります。

Tom and Andrew were friends. They have been friends since they were twelve. On a holiday they went to a forest. They enjoyed seeing beautiful *scenery and talking. After walking for about 20 minutes, they found a nice place to *have a rest. They drank tea and ate some snack there. Suddenly, they saw a big bear that was coming at them. They *were frightened.

Tom was good at *climbing trees. He ran up to a tree and climbed up quickly. He did not think of Andrew at all. Andrew thought *for a second. He *remembered that animals don't like *dead bodies so he fell to the ground and stopped his *breathing. The bear came to Andrew and *sniffed his face. It thought that he was dead. The bear went away.

Tom came down from the tree and asked Andrew, "What did the bear say to you?" Andrew answered, "The bear told me to have a 'real' friend." After that, Andrew went back his home alone.

次の英文は、高校生の大和 (Yamato) と祖母の久美子 (Kumiko) とのやり取りの英文です。これを読んで、あとの(1)～(3)に答えなさい。*印の語句には、本文のあとに(注)があります。

Yamato is a high school student. He lives with his parents and grandmother. His grandmother, Kumiko, is 65 years old. He often talks to her about many things which have happened at school. She really enjoys listening to him.

Kumiko has some friends in her town. One day, she heard from one of her friends about computer lessons given at the *public hall every Sunday. Her friend enjoyed the lessons very much. She had an *interest in computers and wanted to take the lessons, but she couldn't decide.

She said to herself, "I know nothing about computers. I have never used computers. Maybe I can't understand the lessons at all."

A week later, at the dinner table, Yamato talked to his family about the computer lessons which he had at school.

Kumiko said to him, "I want to know about computers. What can we do with computers?"

Yamato said, "Well, for example, if you use *the Internet, you can get all kinds of *information."

Kumiko asked, "What information can you get through the Internet?"

Yamato said, "Today I got information about the new library in our town. I've learned how to get to the library, and when it is open. I've also found that the library has many books which I want to read!"

Kumiko wanted to get information about flowers and plants through the Internet because her *hobby is growing them.

A few days later, Yamato found that the computer lessons were given at the public hall. He also knew that his grandmother wanted to take the lessons. He remembered how much interest she had in computers. So he decided to help her.

Yamato said to Kumiko, "I've already learned many words used for computers, so I think I can help you. I will go to the class with you and help you during the lessons."

Kumiko was very happy, and said to Yamato, "You are so kind, Yamato. *Thanks to you, I can see a new world! I'm really happy!"

Kumiko was a good student. She listened to the teacher very *carefully, and always tried to ask questions about things which she didn't understand. After a few lessons, she could find many things about flowers and plants on the Internet.

Yamato thought, "My grandmother is *young at heart. I should have an interest in new things, and try hard to learn them, too."
